Mixcakes - recipes to prosper with...

"sheer, unadulterated fun-mongering" ~ Lake Of Stars

"near-legendary" ~ The Metro

INTRODUCTION

“It is important to experiment and endlessly seek after creating the best possible flavors when preparing foods.

That means not being afraid to experiment with various ingredients.”

~ Rocco DiSpirito

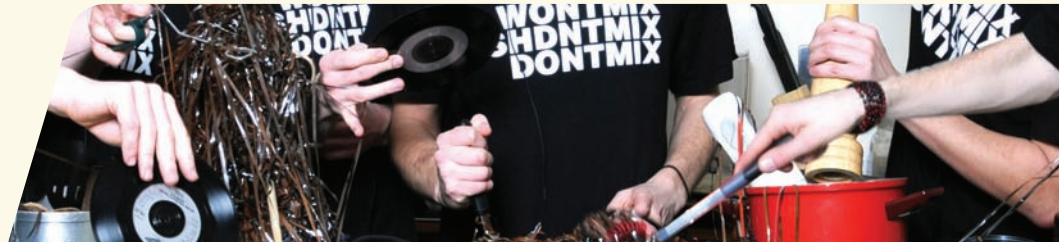

“Where things are a little bit wrong, that’s where the magic comes out.”

~ Mr Scruff

It’s hard to fully appreciate this band of DJ bandits without having seen them live. The one tune each policy certainly keeps things interesting, but moreover it’s the way the crowd connect with the exuberant camaraderie which makes for a top class atmosphere.

Stripped down to just their audio the boys have provided a taste of the ability of versatility that sees them play a plethora of parties, cooking up a compendium of cuts to showcase their musical choices across three very different festivals.

The result is a three course meal of audible delights intended to whet your whistle for witnessing the winning atmospheres whipped up wherever they play. Dip in for a one track snack or take the full three course banquet of beats... Enjoy!

CMWMSMDM

The accidentally formed and eloquently flawed CantMixWontMixShdntMixDontMix are available for a variety of functions that involve playing good music to good people, preferably in a beautiful setting and/or a dingy warehouse.

Providing that everyone involved and attending said function has a sense of humour, enjoys having fun, and is not obsessed with DJ perfectionism or current chart music (CMWMSMDM rarely drink directly from the main stream) then it will undoubtedly be a recipe for a smashing atmosphere!
